Parole

*If you're the victim of a crime and are considering meeting with the Parole Board
we're here to help.*

Victim Support is a community organisation with a network of caring and skilled workers across New Zealand who can help people dealing with the justice system.

How can we help?

We offer full support for victims of crime and their families as they deal with the Parole Board.

Here's how we can help:

- Talk with you about what you can expect when you meet with the Parole Board
- Help you prepare a written or oral submission or sort out the things you'd like to say
- Liaise with the Parole Board
- Tell you what financial support is available to cover the costs of travel and accommodation when meeting with the Parole Board and help you apply for these grants if you qualify
- Come with you to the Parole Board and support you as you talk with them, immediately afterwards and ongoing.

*Our service is free,
personal and confidential*
