Victim Support

How can we help you?

Victim Support is an independent community organisation for victims of crime and trauma. We help people to overcome cultural, language, emotional, financial and practical barriers so they can get the help they need to recover, and participate fully and fairly in the justice system where needed.

Victim Support can:

- Provide telephone and face to face support
- Help you to understand your choices and rights as a victim
- Provide practical information and answer your questions
- Assist and support you at court trials, hearings and dealing with the Police
- Listen and talk
- Help you to access counselling or other specialist support services
- Help you to receive financial assistance if you are eligible
- Prepare victim impact statements and attend family group or restorative justice conferences
- Help you regain control and rebuild your life.

Our service is free, personal and confidential.

If we are not the right people to help you, we will refer you to the people who are.

Call us for free, 0800 VICTIM

When you call Victim Support you will hear a short recorded message, and then a Victim Support Contact Service person will answer.

If you need to talk to someone in Tongan just say "Tongan" when the person answers your call. We will put you on hold (music will play) while we find an interpreter to talk to you, please do not hang up. We will assign a Support Worker to meet with you and support you through this difficult time.

Our service is free, personal, confidential and independent.
